Dr. Gardner Elected Head Of Local United CP Group

Dr. Robert W. Gardner, BJC English instructor, was elected this month as president of United Cerebral Palsy of southwest Idaho. The organization, which is affiliated with the national United CP, is composed of some 75 business and professional persons. The local group undertakes to care for and educate the spastic cerebral palsy victims of this area. It is partly subsidized by the United CP. The national organization maintains a continuing program of research in addition to the care, education and orientation of victims. Gardner, also a member of Boise city mayor's committee for the employment of the physically handicapped and older workers, fills the position left vacant by Charles Link of Boise and Dr. John Farber of Nampa.

BJC Exchanges Variety Show Programs With ISC

The Idaho State college variety show members will present their half of an exchange program in the BJC auditorium Tuesday, April 9. The hour long performance will begin at 1:00 p.m. and classes will be shortened so that all students may attend. Admission will be free.

The BJC variety show will present the first half of the exchange at ISC on Tuesday, April 2. The traveling group will consist of 25 students composing eight separate acts. According to Jackie Rivett, mistress of ceremonies for the program, the eight acts include: a Calypso act, music numbers from the Combo, two dance routines one Calypso and one Boogie Woogie, an Italian medley, a reading, a trumpet solo, a cha cha dance, and ad libs by the mistress of ceremonies.

Approximately 3,000 Persons Expected To Attend Golden Anniversary of NMENC; 30th Anniversary of Northwest Division

The biennial convention of the northwest division of the Music Educators national conference is scheduled to take place in Boise April 2 through 6. According to school officials this conference will be the largest professional conference ever held in Idaho.

The 3,000 participants, which include students, about 800 music teachers and supervisors from the northwestern states, and Alaska, and speakers, conductors and music clinicians from all sections of the United States, will begin arriving Monday, April 1.

April 2, at 1:30 p.m. at Boise High school registration for the conference will begin. A dinner meeting for the board of directors of the NMENC northwest division will follow for the purpose of making final plans and adjustments.

Conference Opens Wednesday

The conference will officially open on Wednesday morning, April 3, with an address by Governor Robert E. Smylie. That evening the "Boise Public School Night" concert will be given at 8:00 p.m. in the BJC gymnasium. Performing will be a local band, orchestra and choral group, doing Irish and Scottish folk songs, Requiem Mass, suites, popular and band music and symphonies.

Thursday, April 4, will be devoted to rehearsals and to workshops, which include demonstrations of new methods and techniques of teaching music, importance of music in other areas of study and speakers, talking on various phases of music.

The BJC a cappella choir will be featured with the Gordon Eichmann chorus and the Mormonaires on the "Boise Community Night" concert to be held Friday evening, April 5, at 8:00 in the BJC gym. Also supplying the music will be the BJC Community Symphony Concert orchestra, the Boise Civic Concert orchestra and the Boise City band. This program will include an original composition by C. Griffith Bratt entitled "To Music."

A-N Festival Is Conference Highlight

The "All-Northwest Festival Concert," scheduled to be held Saturday evening, April 6, at 8:00 in the BJC gymnasium, will highlight the conference. At this concert the All-Northwest orchestra composed of 200 selected students will play under the direction of Erwin Hoggman, musical director and conductor of the Vancouver, British Columbia, symphony orchestra; 500 students have been selected and will sing in the All-Northwest chorus, under the direction of Dr. Lloyd Oakland, director of choral activities at the School of Music at Montana State university in Missoula, Montana. The All-Northwest band, composed of 200 selected students will play at this concert under the BJC a cappella choir will be featured with the Gordon Eichmann School of Music, Boston, Mass.

The students have been selected from a list of outstanding students, as recommended by their supervisors, principals, and superintendents.

This conference, which commemorates the 30th anniversary of the northwest division of the NMENC, also commemorates the 50th anniversary of the NMENC, and the 100th anniversary of the National Education association.

Theta Kappa Holds Dinner and Initiation Student Union For 32 Newly Selected Members

Early on March 28, a grand initiation dinner and initiation ceremony was held at the Student Union for 32 newly selected members of the Theta Kappa chapter. The admission to the dinner was $1.00 and the good moral character of the new members was attested to by the members of the chapter. The new members will be presented with certificates of membership. Also, if they wish, the new members will be placed on their transcripts.

IN OUR OPINION...

The mighty germ is still the master of the University of Idaho campus, according to the U. of I. newspaper, The Argonaut. Students have continued to contract the measles, mumps, flu and colds. Dr. J. M. Flemming, university physician, termed it a moderately severe epidemic. Approximately 1,000 students have been affected by the diseases. All campus activities were cancelled for several days. Although the idea of escaping a couple of days of classes seemed pleasant to some of the students, the professors still maintained the unpleasant policy of giving essay make-up exams. Problems of class excuses also arose out of the crippling germ attack.

It seems that spring vacation has come at an opportune time. With the advent of spring weather, we become restless for a change or at least a break in the routine. Thanks to the Northwest Music Educators conference being held here, the vacation was moved to this week from the Easter weekend for which it was originally scheduled. Although some dorm students are tied down because they have to participate in the conference, the vacation is a good chance for everyone to catch up with their work, especially the basketball team. Next week, we should all hit the books again with renewed vigor and stick with it for the few short weeks that remain of this school year. The enthusiasm of everyone will help to top off a very successful year. r.j.

Spring Vacation Begins Tomorrow, April 3

All classes will be dismissed for the remainder of this week, April 3 to 7, for spring vacation. This is because of the Northwest Music Educators conference which will be taking place on the BJC campus during this week. Classes will resume Monday, April 8.

TIM'S CAMPUS COMMENTS...

The skiing season is just coming to a close and is a sure sign that spring has arrived again. We wonder what the students will do with their time. This season of the year is the hardest of any by far to attend classes or for that matter study at all. The long weekend drives in the mountains or the scorching game of tennis become the primary thoughts in the minds of us all. "Spring Fever" is about to hit all of us quite hard.

With the coming of spring there is apt to be a definite rise in the energy level of most of us. Why couldn't we put some of this extra energy to work as a united student body. With the coming of spring, there are many opportunities for us to do this if we wish. The baseball and track squads would greatly appreciate some moral support.

However, if we don't like spectator sports, why not have an all-school "blast" similar to homecoming. Many of our collegiate neighbors have something of this sort to celebrate the coming of spring. All we need is for a few people to get the ball rolling. A springtime event similar to homecoming could become an annual activity.

Think it over. If you like the idea, talk about it. If enough students become interested, an activity of this type may take shape.
P.S.: HAPPY SPRING VACATION.

Tau Alpha Pi Hobo March Scheduled To Take Place April 19

The annual Tau Alpha Pi hobo march will take place this year on Friday, April 19.

The BJC chapter of the Tau Alpha Pi, a national organization of trades and principles, sponsors this hobo march for the purpose of raising money for scholarships and vocational student loans.

A beard growing contest accompanies the fund raising campaign. The march will get under way at the vocational shops around noon and will proceed over to the Student Union. From there the "hobos" will march down Capitol boulevard to the main part of town. The students will then circulate throughout Boise and ask for funds for their scholarships.

As part of their initiation of pledges, any member of the club who finds a pledge with money is eligible to take it from him. Any pledge found without money at the end of the drive will receive black marks that will make it harder for him during initiation.

That evening the drive will come to a close with the "hobos" having dinner of muligan stew in the park in front of the capitol building. During the dinner, five prizes will be given to the laziest hobo, best moocher, most typical hobo, dirtiest hobo, and best beard.

The winners will, after the dinner, appear on KBOI-TV and their prizes will officially be awarded to them.

Short Story Entries Must Be Submitted By April 25

Closing date for writer's Digest's 23rd annual short story contest is drawing near. All contestants must have their entries in by April 25, 1957.

Two hundred prizes will be awarded, including the first prize of $500 and one prize of a trip to Cuba or Mexico.

Students wishing to enter the contest may submit two stories by subscribing to Writer's Digest for one year. Or for a four issue subscription, contestants may enter one story.

Contest rules, a list of prizes and entry blanks may be obtained in the student affairs office.

STUDENT OF THE WEEK

Sherry Purvis

Student of the week is Purvis, recently chosen lady at the Pi Sig formal. She has been described as a little brunette with a fair conventional.

Sherry, who has lived most of her life, attended Junior High and Boise High and lives at home with her parents and sister.

Here at BJC she is a member of B-Cubes and Co. club and is now a Valkyrie.

When asked about her classes, her answer was, "I hate them all, it's just the way I hate."

Favorite pastimes include singing and talking to people with them, drawing and painting.

Sticking her fingers in the matic pie, she is a member cast for the TV play "Take the Sea" which will be April 11.

Working her way through college, she is now employed as a cashier at the M & W.

Sherry is planning to attend BJC next year and is taking medical with tentative plans to be a doctor. Among her new ambitions she hopes to have a beautiful day and all the energy to enjoy it and many friends.

Final Deadline Set For Midterm

According to the Board of the Les BJC, the final deadline for the midterm exam is set for the middle of May. No pictures will be taken at the end of this week. Students will receive their answers of May.

Jan Obenauer will take charge of the fair after the midterm.

She will be collecting money for the fair. Organized to the annual fair, Mr. Gottenberg's office.

Referring to Scott remarks, the staff has we hope that the use of the Youth Employment Service will be done by them.

Youth Employment Service To Have Spring Campaign

The Youth Employment Service with offices at 303 Main street is a joint venture of the Employment Security Agency, the Y.M.C.A., the school system, service clubs and organizations, students, interested civic groups and individuals of the Boise area. Its function is to promote part-time, after-school and vacation jobs for students in the Boise area, and to provide an employment office devoted entirely to student applicants from the seventh grade through the college years.

The Youth Employment Service is about to embark on a spring campaign to obtain jobs for its registered applicants. Boise Junior college students can provide the nucleus of applicants for higher type and more skilled jobs that must be done by more mature and older students.

While the Youth Employment Service cannot promise jobs for all students registered, every effort will be made through newspapers, radio, television, and promotion talks, to solicit jobs. Students at Boise Junior college who have not already done so, should register at the Youth Employment Service if they are interested in obtaining part-time work. The Youth Employment Service will make every effort to place as many students as possible. Students may help in this cause by urging businessmen and women with whom they may come in contact to make

Veterans' Widows Fail To Make Application For Increased Benefits

One of every five widows of veterans who died of service-connected causes before January 1, 1957, have failed to apply for the increased dependents' compensation payments, Veterans Administration announced.

Service members and Veterans' benefits act which authorized the new payments, became law January 1, 1957.

Widows of veterans who died of service-connected causes before January 1, 1957, may elect to receive the new payments or to continue under the old death compensation, whichever is higher.

In most cases, VA said, the new act provides for higher payments to these widows than were granted under previous laws.

Any of these widows who wish to receive the higher benefit must apply for the new compensation payments, even though they already are on VA rolls.

If a widow is eligible for an increased monthly payment under the new law, VA said, such payments will be made retroactive to January 1, 1957, provided she applies by July 1, 1957.

With certain exceptions, applications received after July 1 will be effective as of the day they are received, VA emphasized.

Widows who make application for the new benefit, but who would receive more under old laws, will be advised by VA against the wrong choice of payment.

However, if a widow fails to apply for the new benefit, she will continue to receive death compensation at the same rate as in the past, even though she might be eligible for increased payments under the Survivor Benefits act, VA said.

Advice about applying for the new benefit is available at any VA office.

The University of Oregon Singers from Eugene is one of many vocal and instrumental groups from all over the northwest that will be performing at the NMENC. The U. of O. Singers are scheduled to appear the morning of Wednesday, April 3.

Boise Cabrini Club Holds Amateur Talent Show

The Cabrini club of Boise is sponsoring a talent show for the purpose of raising funds for scholarships. The show will consist entirely of amateur talent and will run for three consecutive Monday evenings, April 29, May 6 and May 13. The show will be held in St. Mary's auditorium, 2512 State street.

Five winners will be selected from each of the first two performances to compete on the third night for finalists. The age limit is 15 years or older.

The winner of the talent show will receive as first prize a weekend trip for two at Shore Lodge in McCall. Other prizes include a $15 gift certificate, compliments of Sub Kleffner Athletic Supplies; a mantel mirror, compliments of Intermountain Glass Co.; $10 gift certificate, compliments of C. C. Anderson Co.; and an electric travel snack kit, compliments of Sears-Roebuck Co. Auditions will be held April 11 at 8:00 p.m. in St. Mary's auditorium. For further information, call Albert Erquaga, 8-6681, Meridian or write him at Route One, Meridian.

CLUB OF THE WEEK

The Associated Women Students is an organization of all the women students on campus and its purpose is to promote a more unified spirit among them.

Their activities have included a fall tea for all the new freshmen women, a mum sale during the festivities of Homecoming, a Christmas basket, and the Sweethearts ball. Their next big event coming up is the senior girls tea which will be the 16th of April.

The AWS also sponsors a different project each month to raise money for a scholarship which will be awarded to one of the girls attending BJC. The project they are now working on is the payment of a big "Bronco" which will be painted in the middle of the floor in the gymnasium. One of their completed projects is the gum and candy machine just recently installed in the Student Union.

Present officers of the club are Terry Mays, president; Jeanne Fessler, vice president; Sandra Compton, secretary; Marlene Bergam, treasurer; Joann Ross, social chairman; Kathy Carstens, and Shannon Newman, sophomore representatives; Gail Fulton and Gloria Bills, freshman representatives. Elections will be held in May.

Dorm Student Swims Swift Boise River On 25c Bet

Wednesday evening, March 27, a crowd of dorm students watched as Paul Hogan, a BJC student, swam the Boise river directly in front of the school. Hogan made the dip as a result of a 25-cent bet. The strong current carried him downstream a great distance before he finally reached the other bank, winning the bet.

to determine next year's new officers and they will be honored by a luncheon in one of Boise's restaurants.

IK Pages Undergo Hell Week Events

Hell week was held March 25 to 30 for 17 new IK pledges. The pledges, named pages, participated in a variety of initiation activities during school time Monday through Friday and Saturday evening.

The pages, dressed in their traditional armor and carrying their paddles, performed daily in front of the Student Union. They were required to participate in a number of games including golf, tennis, foot races, jousting matches, and leap frog. In golf, the pages pretended to be golf balls. They had a choice of three holes to go into and if they chose the wrong one, they had to start over again. Each golf ball, page, was sent on his way with a hardy swat from one of the IK members. In tennis, the pages were again balls, only this time they were swatted across a net. In all of the games, the pages were assisted in their activity by the paddle-wielding IK members.

In addition to the games, the pages sang "Sparkle Starkle" in the Student Union at noon during the week and got the signature of all the IK members on their paddles. Swats accompanied the signatures.

The week of informal initiation was climaxed by the Hell night program, Saturday evening, March 30. The pages were fed an unpleasant supper and given a grudge swat from any knight of their choice. Following the initiation, the entire group held a party. Formal ceremonies will be held at a later date.

Books Available To Aid In Party Fun

By Barbara Martin

Planning a party or club social? Several newly arrived books in the library may add a lot to the fun.

The Omnibus of Fun by Helen and Larry Eisenberg contains a thousand and one ice-breakers, stunts, skits, puzzles, quizzes, and games, guaranteed to keep a party rolling.

Fun and Games, a similar book, by Margaret E. Mulac, contains party ideas for all ages. Card games and tricks, singing games and dance mixers among the many.

Other helpful material for parties and club meetings may be found in the 790's. Among these are High Times by Nettie Thompson which contains suggestions for school activities, and The Program Encyclopedia by Clement A. Duran, an extensive list of activities, group hobby and craft ideas, money raising projects, and many other helpful suggestions.

A brand new book on a problem that has given BJC students lots of worry and fun is Vaughn's Parade and Float Guide. This book offers helpful and clever suggestions in designing and building a float including estimates of cost, and amount of material needed. In addition, the book contains many beautiful photographs of parades and floats which Mr. Vaughn, a professional float builder, has supervised.

The shortest home-run distance in the major leagues is at the Polo Grounds. It is 258 feet to the left-field overhang and down the right-field line.

Sam Snead has won every major golf title in the U. S. with the exception of the Open.

Nick Panico To All-American JC Hoop

Nick Panico, a native of Boise and a native of the state, named to the 1954 all-American team last week by the National College Athletic Association. Panico, a sophomore, Bronco scoring leader and copped the ICAC honors while leading his team to their first ICAC title crown and to fourth place in the national junior college competition this year.

It marks the second succession that the team has been named to the JC All-American team. The players were picked by representatives from 61 different NJCAA schools on the basis of their regular season performance.

NBC Changes

The national basketball committee which met in Kansas City made a number of changes in the rules to be in effect next year. The committee's rulings affect both American and college basketball. Their biggest change is in the shot rule.

For all college and high school teams the one-and-one rule now in effect is the first shot of each half will be worth one charity point whether it is good or bad. Fouls committed after the six will revert to the bonus rule—awarding a shot in event the player is fouled. From high school on, one shot foul will revert to the one-and-one after that.

Dodging raindrops has become the spring sport around the Boise valley and especially at BJC the last few days rather than baseball and track, which, by tradition, are the major sports usually played at this time of the year.

It seems that things are even rough down Florida way where there has been an unusual amount of rain and cold. Major league baseball teams have been screaming bloody murder about the weather, and the chamber of commerce in the flowery state are trying to drown out this unfavorable publicity by shouting a little louder about Florida's wonderful vacation opportunities.

One suggested remedy for the Idaho area is to give the rain back to the Alutian Islands before we began to grow webbs between out toes... like it's rumored our neighbors have. As far as Florida is concerned, let it rain. The vacationists probably need to recuperate from their original vacation anyway.

Will It Be A Banner?

As this school year draws to a close, it will mark the end of the 10 year tenure of Lyle Smith as head football coach at Boise Junior college. So far, this year has been a banner year for sports at BJC.

The football squad rolled to nine victories and a tie to share the ICAC gridiron crown. Basketball coach George Blankley guided his charges over the second hurdle to win, for the first time, the ICAC basketball championship and fourth place in the nation to go along with the region one title.

Baseball has now appeared on the scene as has track. Only once before have the Broncos taken the northern ICAC title and that happened in 1954. The cindermen have had it pretty rough the last three years as Ricks has dominated the league competition.

Rain Delays Baseball Opener; BJC Plays This Weekend; Bronco Cindermen prepare For NNC Invitational April 13

EOC Again Listed

Boise Junior college's double-header with Eastern Oregon College of Education which was scheduled for last Saturday afternoon on the BJC diamond was cancelled because of rain. Providing it can be worked into the EOC schedule, BJC and the Mounties will attempt to open the season this weekend on the local diamond.

The Broncos were originally slated to tangle with the Mountain Home AFB Plainsmen on Friday and Saturday on the BJC field. Should EOC not be able to play the capital city squad this weekend, then Coach Lyle Smith's charges will meet the AFB team in a single game beginning at two o'clock Friday and at the same time Saturday. Should a double-header occur game time would be 1:30 with a seven inning contest to follow.

19 Sign For Tennis;

Nineteen males have signed up with intramural director Ray Lewis to compete for berths on the BJC tennis squad which will host Idaho State next week. As of last Friday there were vacancies in the women's singles, doubles, and mixed doubles.

The ICAC netters will meet at Cedar City, Utah, on May 11 to decide the league championship, the same time that the loop track meet is run off and the conference baseball title is up for grabs.

Golf Lessons Offered
Gold lessons, under the direction of pro Ernie Tucker, at Plantation golf course will be given on Thursday afternoons. The cost is one dollar for four lessons and clubs may be rented from the course's shop. Anyone interested should contact Lyle Smith for further particulars.

Broncs Call Off Triangular Meet

Track coach Ray Lewis called off the triangular meet scheduled between BJC, NNC and the C of I in Bronco stadium for last Saturday afternoon as intermittent rains throughout the past week hindered work on the track and kept workouts to a minimum.

The Boise crew will turn their attention to the NNC invitational to be held April 13 in Nampa.
